

Dr Giacomo Stanzani DVM MVetMed DACVECC DECVECC MRCVS

Dick White Referrals, ECC Consultant, Six Mile Bottom, Cambridgeshire, United Kingdom

Giacomo is an American, European, and RCVS Specialist in Emergency and Critical Care. He graduated from the University of Bologna and, following a period at the University of Pennsylvania (USA), completed his Emergency and Critical Care training at the Royal Veterinary College, London. After working as a staff clinician at the University of Edinburgh, he completed a research post and PhD scholarship and worked on mechanisms of sepsis-induced myocardial dysfunction with the UCL Bloomsbury Institute for Intensive Care Medicine. He joined DWR (Mars Veterinary Health) as an ECC consultant in 2020 and is now Joint-Head of the Emergency and Critical Care Service.

His areas of particular interest include clinical research, sepsis, haemodynamic monitoring and advanced life support. Giacomo is chair of the joint ECVECC & EVECCS scientific committee and is responsible for the scientific program of our congress.